New stop signs in Belle Glade

In response to many citizens' concerns about speeding cars and traffic flow in residential areas of the city, the Belle Glade Police Department has installed five new stop signs.

You will now have to come to a complete stop at the corner of: North East First Street at North East Avenue B; North East Third Street at North East Avenue B; South East Second Street at South Avenue I; South East Third Street at South Avenue I; and South East Fourth Street at South Avenue I.

"By installing these traffic control devices, it is the intention of the police department to slow the traffic in these areas and to avoid the incidents of traffic accidents/collisions with pedestrians as these areas are heavily traveled by young school age children," said Michael R. Miller, Director of Public Safety and Chief of Police. "We at the police department are expecting voluntary compliance by the motoring public," he added.

Holiday closing

There will be door prizes and participants can tour the school.

Water supply planning meeting set for Feb. 16

Local growers are invited to attend a seminar on South Florida Water Management District's Lower East Coast Region Water Supply Planning Process.

The seminar is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 16, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. at the Everglades Research and Education Center in the Library Conference Room, Belle Glade.

The speaker will be Thomas M. Teets, supervising professional for the SFWMD Lower East Coast District Water Supply.

He will discuss the overall planning process for water use and supply projections. Following the discussion, there will be a time for questions and answers.

"This seminar is an ideal opportunity to bring yourself and your managers up-to-date on a process that could affect your farming operation in the future," said Thomas Schuehman, Extension Agent III.

Farming advocate is chosen Pahokee's Citizen of the Year

Tammy Jackson

The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce recently held their Annual Awards Banquet and Membership Meeting. The theme for the evening was "Raised in the Glades" and table decorations abound with fresh vegetables donated by South Bay Growers. Senator Mark Foley addressed those in attendance. He spoke on The Economic Status in the Glades.

Members of the community were asked over a two-month period to make nominations to the chamber on their choice of those who have made a difference in Pahokee over the one-year period.

Jo Hutton was named Citizen of the Year. Ms. Hutton served as hostess of the banquet and when it was announced she was Citizen of the Year, the crowd applauded while Ms. Hutton's jaw dropped. She said that she couldn't believe it.

Ms. Hutton, the mother of four, is well known as a gifted speaker as she has served as emcee at various functions. She is involved in many community projects including "Operation Clean Sweep" and the annual "I Love Pahokee" day. She is an active member in WIFE (Women Involved in Farm Economics), and she is a spokesperson for "Ladies of the Lake." She coordinated the Mark Foley Barbecue on Lake Okeechobee, an event which attracted hundreds of registered voters.

Ms. Hutton has also traveled to Tallahassee and appeared before Governor Lawton Chiles and his cabinet on the economic development of the City of Pahokee.

Also receiving recognition at the banquet were: Ron Osborne, Employee of the Year; Volunteer of the Year, Larry Wright; Business of the Year, Video Movies, Inc.; and Distinguished Service, Dick Meyer. Special recognition was given to former chamber director, Jim Helvey. A plaque was presented to his wife, Gema Helvey.

Special recognition was also given to U.S. Sugar Corporation, Everglades Regional Medical Center, the City of Pahokee, Glades Day School's football team, Pahokee Middle/Sr. High School football team and the Grassy Waters Committee and donors.

Trailer fire leaves Belle Glade man homeless

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

The local branch of the American Red Cross has stepped in to help a man who was left homeless after a fire destroyed his mobile home last Friday morning.

Freddy Carter, 49, of 652 S.W. Fifth Street, Belle Glade was asleep Feb. 4, when his mobile home caught fire about 3 a.m.

Fire rescue responded to the call and had the fire under control in just a few minutes, but the mobile home sustained about $5,000 in damages. Mr. Carter's 1982 Cadillac, which was parked next to the trailer, also received extensive damage.

Fire Chief Tony Tuliano said Mr. Carter escaped from the burning trailer without injury. Damage to the car was estimated at about $3,000.

The state fire marshall was called in, to investigate the fire and it was ruled accidental.

It is believed the fire started in the living room of the mobile home.

Heather Teeters, director for the American Red Cross, said Mr. Carter was taken to a local motel for five nights and given food.

"We will also help him find another place to live and pay his first month's rent," she said.

Not happy with what they're hearing...Belle Glade City Commissioners Rodney Connell and Happy Tucker listen to Ed Springthorpe, engineer with Barker, Osha & Anderson, explain why the city must make costly improvements to the water treatment plant during a tour Monday afternoon.

It doesn't hurt!...Glades General Hospital and the American Heart Association teamed up to offer free blood pressure screenings at Winn Dixie last weekend. The screenings will be going on at various stores every Saturday during February, which is Heart Month. Shown is R.N. Patty Hood testing Edna James.

Return the lady's wallet, please

By Brenda Bunting

Linda Smith had her wallet lifted while shopping last Saturday morning at Foodland in Pahokee.

The Claremore, Okla. native said she knew it was her fault for setting the wallet down and walking over to inspect some meat in the store, but she really needs it back.

Miss Smith, who is visiting the Glades with her boy friend, has kidney disease and she needs her medical card which was in the wallet.

"I know I shouldn't have set the wallet down, but I wasn't thinking," she said. "When I turned back to get it, it was gone."

She doesn't care about the few dollars that were in the wallet, but would like to get back her AT & T calling card, medical card and her driver's license.

"We were staying at the Pahokee Marina," she said, "but right now we're at the Belle Glade Marina Campground, Ex. 321."

The person can return the wallet, no questions asked, to the campground office or drop it off where she is staying until Feb. 14.

South Bay Mayor and Commissioner to retain commission seats

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

With no opposition, two South Bay Commissioners will retain their seats for another two-year term.

Fire Chief Tony Tuliano said Mr. Carter escaped from the burning trailer without injury. Damage to the car was estimated at about $3,000.

The state fire marshall was called in, to investigate the fire and it was ruled accidental.

It is believed the fire started in the living room of the mobile home.

Heather Teeters, director for the American Red Cross, said Mr. Carter was taken to a local motel for five nights and given food.

"We will also help him find another place to live and pay his first month's rent," she said.

Another two-year term Mayor Clarence Anthony and City Commissioner Willie Marshall are veterans in the political arena and both men maintain that they work for the citizens of the community. They say that the city is being operated in an efficient manner.

Those wishing to bring forth opposition had until noon Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1994, to file for election with the South Bay Clerk of the Courts.

Mayor Anthony, 32, is a lifetime resident of South Bay. He owned and operated his own consulting firm.

Commissioner Marshall, 43, is a foreman at Talisman Sugar Corporation.

A resident of South Bay, Comm. Marshall is active in his church and he gets involved with his community.

Both men are interested in increasing the tax base for the city. Comm. Marshall and Mayor Anthony are interested in growth in the city, bringing industry and jobs to the area, and improving the city as a whole. Both men are also interested in youth activities in the city.

They say the city thus far has seen vast improvement. It was recently awarded a total of nearly $5.5 million in grants. The municipality was also able to hire two new police officers this year.

City must make costly utility improvements

By Brenda Bunting

City officials in Belle Glade are grappling with costly improvements and expansions at the water and wastewater treatment plants in the city.

A workshop Tuesday night let citizens know the problems facing the city. State and federal regulations could cost the city up to $15 million. And, the cost would be passed on to residents in the form of higher water bills.

"We're caught between a rock and a hard place," said Mayor Steve Weeks. "The water treatment and wastewater treatment services is out of compliance. We have to until Oct. 31 to deal with the wastewater problem," he told those attending the workshop.

Jeffrey Renault, engineer with Barker, Osha & Anderson, said meeting the codes of the Environmental Protection Agency at the wastewater treatment plant could cost $8.7 million. The city could face fines of $10,000 a day if the improvements aren't made by Oct. 31.

Improvements include adding filters to stop the flow of debris into the deep well injection system, adding additional pumps, and officials are considering adding additional water storage tanks to meet the water demands during peak cycles. The plant has exceeded the 80 percent design capacity for water usage on many occasions and is mandated by the state.

News from the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center and Palm Beach Community College

By Maria Wise Miller

Palm Beach Community College's Glades Campus has built an outstanding reputation for quality education. Both Dr. Edward Eiseley, president of PBCC and Glades Campus Provost Dr. Helen Franke are proud to announce four students whose achievements in academics and community activities reflect their success and leadership qualities.

Selected as "Students of the Month" for January 1994 were Rose McGahee and Primrose Williams. For February 1994, the "Students of the Month" are Everley Farquharson and Larry Lamb.

Miss McGahee has been attending PBCC for the last two years and plans to graduate after the spring term. President of the Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society at the college, she has been a life-long resident of the Glades and works as a teacher's aid at Glades Day School attending college classes at night. Upon graduation from PBCC, she plans to attend the University of South Florida and major in elementary education.

A computer science/business major, Mrs. Williams' career objective is to be a computer programmer. She moved to Belle Glade in 1992 and is married. The 14th child in her family, she feels strongly that perseverance is the key to success and she has much to be proud of, earning the designation of "Certified Professional Secretary" early in her career as an executive secretary. Mrs. Williams is active in student government and is a member of the Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society.

Reading, tutoring and working with the elderly are all important hobbies to Ms. Farquharson, 23, whose major at PBCC is occupational therapy. She moved to Belle Glade in 1984 and after graduation from Glades Central High School, joined the U.S. Army Reserves. Ms. Farquharson served during the Persian Gulf Crisis and earned three certificates and a Medal of Achievement. She will continue her studies after graduation from PBCC at Florida A & M and hopes to open her own practice in occupational therapy some day.

Mr. Lamb, 42, shares Tupelo, Miss. with Elvis Presley as a birthplace. The family moved to Belle Glade in 1964 when his father became a city police officer. He graduated from Belle Glade High School, but made no plans to attend college.

legate at the time. Following in his father's footsteps, Mr. Lamb became a police officer and in 1982 graduated top of his class from PBCC's Police Academy. Now, he is a patrol sergeant with over 12 years with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office. It was his family who encouraged him to return to PBCC and continue his education and Mr. Lamb feels a great deal of personal satisfaction from the challenges of school work as well as realizing that you are never too old to learn.

City must make utility improvements

Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services to stay within the guidelines. The city can either expand the plant or install the storage tanks.

The city could be denied construction permits for the new high school unless improvements are made to the water system and plans to provide water and sewer to the jail expansion at the county courthouse must wait until the city is able to meet those demands for additional services.

The city may issue bonds to pay for the improvements and some of the money could come from the city's repair and replacement fund.

Commissioner Crate "Happy" Tucker expressed his concern with mandates set down by state and federal agencies without funding to help with the improvements.

"I wonder if the state of Florida or the federal government would like to help pay for this?" he said. "This is getting ridiculous."

City officials will continue to discuss this issue at the regular Feb. 14 commission meeting at 8 p.m.

A better place for the juvenile detention center

Thank you for letting me use your very informative program, the Speak Out.

I am calling in reference to an article I saw in the Palm Beach Post about a meeting that will be in South Bay concerning a juvenile detention center in South Bay. I'm not here to condemn it nor support it, but I do know there are a lot of people who are concerned and I might have that concern after I attend that meeting also.

I have a suggestion. This place shall be in a residential area. On the surface, I think it's a bad influence coming into the area, however, my suggestion is: there is a place by the name of Talisman Sugar Corporation and they have an area that has three very well-constructed buildings.

I do know that it has deteriorated some and the windows and doors might need some repairs. I would suggest that they negotiate with the people who own Talisman Corporation, which is off U.S. Highway 27.

They could be successful in getting those three buildings out there to house these people.

I believe that would be very, very good. I'm not ignorant of the fact that South Bay needs the revenue that they would accumulate from this. I believe that when we stack up both of these, considering the revenue, the danger, I better to house these juveniles out there at Talisman Sugar Corporation.

If there's anything I can do to help them negotiate that deal, I'll put in some effort in trying to help them to do it.

Editor's note: An article in the Feb. 3, 1984 issue of The Sun reported the South Bay Commission voted not to permit the detention facility in their city. Representatives from JRS and Eckerd Family Youth Alternatives (the organization that would run the facility) met with commissioners and residents on the issue. The commission voted 5-0 against bringing the facility to South Bay.

In response to Speak Out caller...

Dear Editor:

I would like to refute the statement made by someone in your Speak Out section last week. The caller stated: truck drivers, take chances all the time and they are putting people's lives in danger.

Let's put this in perspective: in 1990, trucking employed 384,870 Florida workers, one of every 12 people. If the caller is correct, that means the majority of those 384,870 workers who are truck drivers are a menace to society.

As a professional in the trucking industry I apologize to that caller and to anyone else that has had a bad experience with a renegade truck driver. There are just as there are bad lawyers, doctors, teachers, etc. But, we are working hard to eliminate these bad apples from our ranks through vigorously changing the requirements such as a single commercial drivers license, drug and alcohol testing, safety meetings, training, etc.

Consider that America depends on trucks just as you depend on your family car to transport you to and from the office, the grocery store, or the shopping mall.

Trucks haul more freight and travel more miles than any other mode of commercial transportation. In fact, everything you wear, eat or touch in Belle Glade came on a truck. It is our only source for supplies coming or going in our inland community.

Look around. Our highways are full of working trucks. Fire trucks, emergency vehicles, garbage trucks, cake trucks, produce trucks, car haulers, etc.

So, please do not categorize all truck drivers as bad. The next time you have a bad experience with a truck driver, take the time to call the owner of the truck. Get the I.D. number, tag number, or anything else that will identify the vehicle. Call this in immediately along with the time and place of the incident. You will be doing the trucking industry a favor by helping to get rid of hopefully a dying breed, the renegade truck driver.

One bad apple doesn't ruin the whole pie!

Letters to the editor

Law enforcement stuck with cost of enforcing Brady Bill

Dear Editor:

We are calling your attention to an issue that must be put before the U.S. Congress.

As you may know, the Brady law (P.L. 103-159) does not provide any money to local law enforcement to conduct background checks. For this reason, the diversion of law enforcement manpower and resources to undertake the background checks under this law promises to be a serious drain on those communities which choose to comply. These problems can be alleviated only by the timely implementation of the National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICBSCS).

Local law enforcement agencies are only now realizing the full impact the Brady law will have on their departments. According to an Associated Press story of Dec. 28, 1993, "Police chiefs and county sheriffs across the country are dreading the Feb. 28 implementation of the Brady Bill.

Smaller departments worry about cascading paperwork; others fear that gaps in computer networks may hide some felons or gun buyers to legal purchases. The frustration is typified by state police in Arkansas, where a computer system needed to check prospective gun buyers' backgrounds won't be ready when the Brady Bill takes effect."

Two hundred million dollars was authorized by the Brady law to complete the process of automating and upgrading criminal histories. Given the president's whole-hearted support of this law, and consequently of the NRA-supported "instant check," we are seeking the President's full commitment to the funding authorized by the Brady law. If the NICBSCS is to be created within five years, installation of the national and state infrastructure must begin as soon as possible.

Given the NRA's support for the NICBSCS, we intend to continue working to see it through to full implementation at the earliest possible time. If you have any questions, call 703-267-1190.

Sincerely,
Bill McIntyre, Manager

Communications Office
National Rifle Association of America
Fairfax, Va.

To rewrite the story

Dear Editor:

Although Lorena Bobbitt is routinely punched, dragged by her hair, and raped, she searches for an intellectual solution to her marital problems. During a course of study on self defense, she writes a paper illuminating the issues. Her teacher declares her to be college material: Lorena earns her master's degree and her P.D.

Dr. Bobbitt returns to John Wayne (with his permission of course) to study abusive personalities. She digs at the root of the scourge of the earth, transforms John into a gentle person, gains scholarly recognition, and through her shining example—helpless women and children become heroes and heroines.

Across our great land this ending seems to be preferred. The consensus is for non-violent resistance and escape.

Lorena had that chance, but she lacked the sophistication to see John Wayne as a full-time "committed" abuser.

She left: he ran after her with something almost as lethal as threats—promises: "if only she'd return 'he'd treat her like a wife,'" Lorena testified. She believed her husband.

How about public and private funding of courses for girls and women, in school and work, on self-image, and on how to avoid abusive relationships? What if violent people never found a mate? They wouldn't be able to carry on the "tradition they'd inherited." That's like asking Carl Sandburg, "What if they gave a war and no one came?"

Let's seek societal responsibility as well as individual survival to end the domestic war. How about community support for non-violent resistance, the "happy ending"?

Isn't it for us, the upstanding citizens, middle class, rich, and wealth, to educate ourselves on how to create a better world, to protect the innocent, to rewrite the Lorena Bobbitt stories?

Ask Dr. Boltson

Dr. David Boltson is the associate director of the Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic in Belle Glade, and is a licensed psychologist in private practice in Lake Worth.

Cupid's Beaus

Are you romantic? If you instantly answered "yes" to this question, I would challenge you to consider that you may not be as full of love as you think you are.

Folks who have developed a "romantic repertoire" of things to do or say in order to impress another person are more often playing a role than they are sharing communication with their partner.

Take the example of first dates such as those set up on the TV show Love Connection.

Typically you will have a man bragging about all the "romantic plans" he created for some one he has never met. First, I will buy her one dozen red roses. Then I will take her to a secluded restaurant I know

Then I will buy her a Moet Chandon champagne. Afterwards, I will take her home and give her a shiatsu massage. All this will let her know how special she is to me.

Now I would ask you readers to think about this. How could this gentleman have "special" feelings for someone he never met? Moreover, how truly "special" are these romantic gestures if they are part of his routine for every woman he tries to impress?

"Special" is supposed to indicate unique and personal understanding—not a romantic routine.

"Special" gestures should be based on intimate knowledge and communication with your partner. Not everyone likes champagne and shiatsu.

So, ladies and gentlemen; whether you are married or single, you owe it to your partner to be truly romantic this

Glades Central senior wins spelling competition

For the first time in the history of Glades Central's County Invitational Spelling Tournament, a Glades Central student has claimed the prize.

Doumia Joseph, a 12th grade student, out-spelled Preethy Kelinjavadi of Suncoast High School on Feb. 3, to claim the $500 United States Savings Bond donated by Sugarcane Growers Cooperative and the championship trophy funded by Dr. Effie Grear, principal of Glades Central.

Miss Joseph spelled "agrafe," which means a clasp on armor, to win the competition.

Miss Kelinjavadi received a $200 savings bond and Deepa Samuel of John I. Leonard High School received a $100 bond sponsored by the Belle Glade Civitan Club. Both second and third place winners also received trophies.

The sweepstakes trophy, which means a clasp on armor, was won by Suncoast High School.

Dolly Hand served as the final's pronouncer. Other pronouncers were: Richard Aho of the Social Studies Department, Mary Stevenson, English teacher emeritus, and Chuck Shaw, West Area Administrator.

Judges included: Desmond Mahon, Gloria Macia, Mary Orsenigo, Iris Tanner, Glennie Davis, Vivian Ross, Jeanette Dexter, Helen Aspey, and Cindy Schrimsher.

For English teachers, Sarah Bennett and Sonja Lutz, who dreamed up the competition 12 years ago, Thursday's victory was sweet.

"I cried," said Mrs. Bennett. "After all these years of organizing this event, one of our students finally won it!"

The Christian Day School/First Baptist Church's annual Top Priority Basketball Program began last Saturday. The weekly sessions began at 9 a.m. and ended at 1 p.m. each Saturday for the month of February.

Saturday was a success with enthusiastic elementary students from throughout the Glades working on their basketball skills. We hope to see even more children participating next Saturday.

We congratulate the Girl's Varsity Basketball team for defeating Benjamin and the Boy's Junior Varsity for defeating King's Academy Friday night. Great job!

Girl's Varsity District games begin Thursday at Glades Day School at 7 p.m. We encourage all Crusader fans to come out and support the Lady Crusaders!

Mentor program at Lake Shore Middle School proving to be successful

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Lake Shore Middle School has implemented a program which assists male students and teaches them to develop culturally, economically, and socially. With mentors assisting the students and students knowing there is someone who wants them to succeed, since the program was implemented there has been a 50 percent drop in suspensions, over a 92-96 percent increase in daily attendance, a 90 percent reduction in violence, and an improvement of two letter grades or better for students who are involved in the program.

David Lykins is the Crisis Intervention Teacher at Lake Shore Middle School. Mr. Lykins is also a mentor in the newly-implemented Lifelong Solutions for Male Students program at the school.

the program. The goals of the program are to make positive behavioral adjustments and to provide meaningful experiences and solutions that increase the chances for success in the classroom, community and throughout life.

According to David Lykins, crisis intervention teacher, the Lifelong Solutions for Male Students program is extremely successful in the school. The program targets at-risk students, however the success of the program has enabled students throughout the entire student body to become involved.

Throughout the year during a regular school day, each student works under and with mentors. The mentors consist of the male faculty members. Mentors and students meet on a regular basis activities are planned with the students. There are approximately 10-12 students for each mentor. The groups are kept small so that each student can receive adequate attention, instruction and direction.

Students that are involved in the program have an extra incentive to look forward to. Recently, the former Alternative To Suspension Room (7024) was converted to a weight room. Students are allowed to use the room only if they have exhibited appropriate behavior and follow procedures that are set forth by their mentor.

Mr. Lykins said, "An $8,000 grant was allocated to the facility and this money was used to purchase equipment and get the room ready for workout."

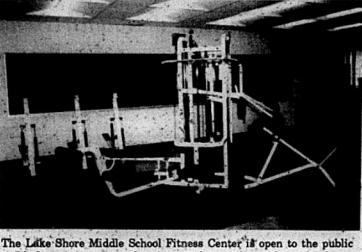

Regulations and rules must be followed and adhered to, and to monitor this, students carry a daily monitoring sheet to each of their classes. The teachers are asked to indicate the type of behavior the kid exhibited in the classroom, attendance progress and grades. At the end of the day the students report to their mentors and the mentor goes over the sheets. Mentors also meet with the teachers to discuss any problems the kid may be exhibiting.

"The kids love the program," said Mr. Lykins. "They are very enthusiastic about it."

So that community members can become involved with Lake Shore's program, the Lake Shore Middle School Fitness Center is open to the public on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 5:30 until 8:30 p.m. for $1 per visit. The room is equipped with life cycles, step-pers, aerobic equipment, power benches, squat racks, 12-station multi-max, dumb bells (5-60 pounds), free weights (over 3,000 pounds), and much more.

Mr. Lykins asks those that attend the fitness center wear appropriate attire. Sneakers are required.

The Lake Shore Middle School Fitness Center is open to the public and it features a variety of equipment that can be used to aid in keeping the human body physically fit.

In a loss to Lake Worth Christian on Feb. 3, the Gators scored 23 points in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough to overcome a slow first quarter performance as GDS lost, 59-52.

Graham Chancey scored 7 points and had 9 rebounds and 5 assists in the loss. Crum shot 16 points, Shawn Whitlock, a JV player moved up to varsity last week, added 12 points.

Cox had a game high 18 points while Shatara had 14.

In a close loss to American Heritage on Feb. 4, Cox shot for 22 points, including two 3-pointers, and Shatara had another 14, but it wasn't enough as the Gators lost 46-44.

Eighth grader Alfredo Tretto, moved up to JV from the junior high, led the team in rebounding with 10. The JV record fell to 7-8 with three games remaining in the season.

With the game tied at 57-57 at the end of regulation time, both teams scored 9 points in the first overtime to make it 66-66. The Gators took a 70-69 lead with seven seconds left in the second overtime when Heritage scored the winning basket.

Senior Danny Crum shot 20 points, Graham Chancey added 17, and Eddy Pedraza scored 8, including two 3-point shots and three steals. Brad Seider had 16 rebounds and Shawn Whitlock 12.

The Gators outscored Christian Day 57-53 on Feb. 1 despite a season ending injury to sophomore Jackie Garrett, the team's second leading scorer. Crum set a single game school record with nine 3-point baskets against the Crusaders. He had 33 points for the night. Sophomore Brad Seider added 11.

In a loss to Lake Worth Christian on Feb. 3, the Gators scored 23 points in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough to overcome a slow first quarter performance as GDS lost, 59-52.

Graham Chancey scored 7 points and had 9 rebounds and 5 assists in the loss. Crum shot 16 points, Shawn Whitlock, a JV player moved up to varsity last week, added 12 points.

The loss dropped the Gators to 9-11 on the season. The JV boys won one of three games last week, including a 45-38 victory over Lake Worth Christian.

Freshman Brad Seider scored 16 points for the Gators. Sophomore Wren Sloan had 8 points and 10 rebounds and Farris Shatara added 10 points.

The JV Gators lost a close one (51-45) to Christian Day on Feb. 1.

Cox had a game high 18 points while Shatara had 14.

In a close loss to American Heritage on Feb. 4, Cox shot for 22 points, including two 3-pointers, and Shatara had another 14, but it wasn't enough as the Gators lost 46-44.

Eighth grader Alfredo Treto, moved up to JV from the junior high, led the team in rebounding with 10. The JV record fell to 7-8 with three games remaining in the season.

Foundation assists students with housing

High school or community college students who are interested in attending Florida State University, the University of Florida or Bethune-Cookman College, but lack the funds to do so, are encouraged to contact the Southern Scholarship Foundation.

The foundation awards scholarships to capable, motivated and financially-needy students. A scholarship recipient is offered the opportunity to live rent-free in one of the foundation's 20 scholarship houses.

Founded in 1949, the Southern Scholarship Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping worthy students attend college. Over the years, nearly 6,000 students have benefited from the foundation's self-help scholarship program thanks to the generous support it receives from individuals, corporations, civic groups and other charitable foundations from around the state.

According to foundation president Joe Mizerek, "We offer deserving students much more than scholarship when they live in our houses. We offer an exceptional opportunity for a meaningful college experience through our cooperative living program where they gain valuable lessons in life.

Lessons that mold character and help students become better prepared to assume the responsibilities of their adult lives."

Mr. Mizerek adds, "We are looking for young people of high moral character who would either not be able to attend college or would experience a major financial struggle while attending college without the help of the foundation."

While the foundation accepts applications throughout the year, the deadline for the Fall 1994 semester is March 1, 1994. Also, students currently enrolled at FSU, UF and BCC who are experiencing financial difficulties may apply.

Interested students should request an application by writing to Southern Scholarship Foundation, 322 Stadium Drive, Tallahassee, FL 32304. The telephone number is (800) 253-2769.

Trivia Quiz

- What is "fat Tuesday"?
- Mardi Gras is part of a famous week-long carnival in New Orleans. What state is New Orleans in?
- What is another name for groundhog?
- Which two presidents' birthdays do we celebrate on Presidents' Day?
- What country celebrates the Lantern Festival this month?

Did You Know...

Groundhog Day is closely related to a very old church holiday called Candlemas. Candlemas is held on the second day of February, and is celebrated by the lighting of many candles. The lighting of candles honors an event that happened hundreds of years ago, soon after Jesus was born. His Mother, the Virgin Mary, took him to the temple in Jerusalem. At the temple, a very devout man named Simeon said that Jesus "would become a 'light to lighten the Gentiles.'" That is why Candlemas is celebrated by lighting candles. Also on this day, Roman Catholics bless all the candles that will be used in church services throughout the year.

An old legend says that the groundhog, which has been sleeping all winter, comes out of its burrow for the very first time on Candlemas Day. If the sun is shining and the groundhog sees its shadow, it will go back to sleep, and we will have six more weeks of winter.

Who's Cupid?

Do you know why many Valentine's Day cards and decorations show a young boy with wings who is carrying a bow and arrow? The reason goes back thousands of years, to a time when Greeks believed in special, powerful beings called gods and goddesses. The Greeks used their belief in gods and goddesses to explain events in nature—the sunrise, for example.

They also believed there was a god who could make people fall in love. He was called Cupid, the god of love. People believed Cupid had magic arrows that made both gods and ordinary men fall in love when they were struck by the arrows. This is the god often pictured on Valentine's Day cards and decorations.

There is an interesting story about how Cupid fell in love himself! He lost his heart to a beautiful princess named Psyche. She was so beautiful that people adored her instead of Cupid's mother, Venus, who was the goddess of beauty. This made Venus angry, so she ordered Cupid to make Psyche fall in love with a horrible creature. But when Cupid saw Psyche, he loved her himself and married her.

Cupid visited Psyche only at night, and said she must never try to see his face. But one night she peeked while Cupid was asleep. Cupid awoke and left her, telling her that love could not live where there was no trust.

Psyche was heartbroken and looked all over the world for him. She finally went to Cupid's mother, Venus, for help. To prove her love, Psyche had to perform many very difficult tasks. They were so hard they would have been impossible if she had not secretly had help from ants, a reed in the river, and so on. Finally, Cupid himself helped her. Then Zeus, who was the king of all gods, made Psyche immortal, so that she would live forever like Cupid.

Larry: Is it helping?

Carrie: No, but my math is much better.

Jerry: A police officer gave my greyhound a ticket.

Judy: Whatever for?

Fun Facts About New Orleans

New Orleans, where the famous Mardi Gras celebration is held, is the largest city in Louisiana. New Orleans is located on the Mississippi River, and is a very important port. Many things are shipped from there: sugar, cotton, rice and lumber.

The old part of the city, along the waterfront, is called the French Quarter. This section is famous for its old-fashioned buildings, many of which have beautiful wrought-iron balconies. The French Quarter is also famous for its delicious food. The people who live there are called Creoles, who are of French and Spanish descent. They have kept many of the customs of their ancestors and many of the people speak French as well as English. This is the part of the city where the Mardi Gras is celebrated.

The more modern part of the city is the northern part of New Orleans. There are many large, lovely homes, gardens and parks. New Orleans' best-known university, Tulane University, is located in this part of the city.

New Orleans was settled by the French in 1718, and was later ruled by Spain. It became part of the United States in 1803 when President Thomas Jefferson bought it as part of the Louisiana Purchase.
